Flood Study Scheduled For Stroudsburg

PHILADELPHIA, April 5—An accelerated study of flood control problems in the Stroudsburg area is being undertaken by the Army Corps of Engineers in advance of the comprehensive study of the entire Delaware Valley, which is estimated to require three years to complete.

According to Col. Allen F. Clark, district engineer for the Army Engineers, the Stroudsburg study is expected to be completed by early 1957, with a preliminary report ready by June, 1956.

Col. Clark also said a contract has been awarded to Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall and McDonald, consulting engineers of New York City, for this preliminary report.

The purpose of this study, he said, is to develop a feasible plan for the protection of the Stroudsburg area from floods like that experienced last August on the Broadheads Creek and its tributaries, McMichaels and Pocono Creeks.

Work Projects

The study will consider both flood control reservoirs and local protection work such as dikes, levees and rip-rap construction.

Col. Clark said the Army Engineers will review the completed study and decide on the best plan for protecting the area. However, the Army Engineers cannot begin any construction until the final detailed report has been completed, and the project authorized by Congress.

The Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters has also undertaken survey and the work of the Army Engineers will be coordinated with theirs. The state may be able to undertake construction of parts of this flood control plan immediately upon completion of the preliminary report of the Army Engineers early this summer, Col. Clark indicated.

Col. Clark said he expects to receive appropriations to continue this flood control study during the next fiscal year, beginning July 1.

This part of the study will include the surveying of dam sites, hydrologic studies, borings and topographic surveys.

Ambassadors Coming Home For Talks

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The United States today signaled a searching review of its cold war and Middle East policies by announcing that its ambassadors to Russia and Saudi Arabia are coming home for consultations.

Ambassador Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen is expected in Washington this weekend. He is in Austria on vacation from his Moscow post—recovering, in fact, from a broken shoulder he suffered while skiing in Switzerland.

Ambassador George Wadsworth already has left Jidda, capital of Saudi Arabia, and arrives tomorrow morning in New York City.

Bohlen is expected to stay in Washington a week or 10 days. His prime task will be to give Secretary of State Dulles and probably President Eisenhower his views on these key question marks in Russian foreign policy.

What is the meaning, and what are likely to be the results, of the Kremlin's campaign to knock the late Joseph Stalin off his pedestal?

What are the Soviet capabilities in the economic field? Can they deliver on the broad promises of industrial development aid they are making in Asia and the Middle East?

Bucks County To Give Polio Shots

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., April 5 (AP)—Sixteen thousand Bucks County children will get anti-polio shots for $1 each, the county Health Department announced today.

The program is in addition to the previous free shot program under which first and second grade pupils were given vaccine last spring.

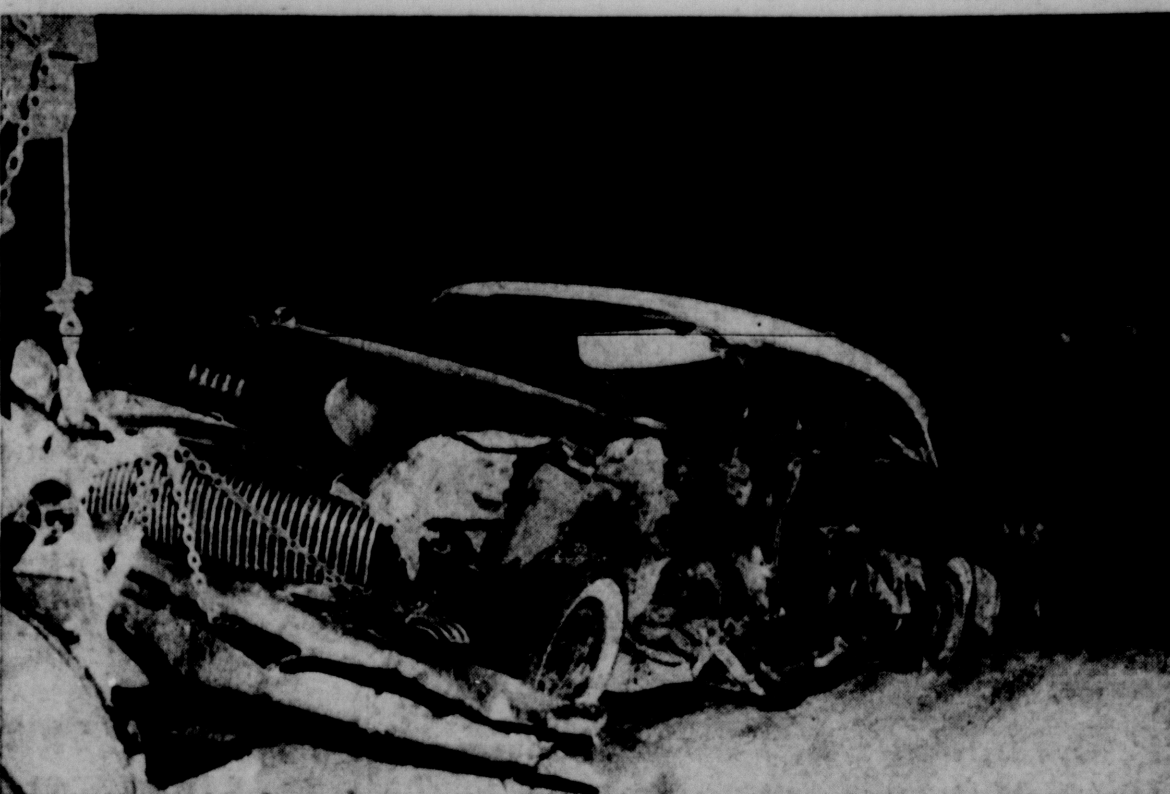

Yetter's Pennsylvania Resort Bill Reaches Governor's Desk

REP. Van D. Yetter's bill providing $300,000 for boosting Pennsylvania as a resort-travel State was sent to Gov. Leader last night.

The House yesterday concurred in amendments to Yetter's bill by the Senate. Only the governor's signature is needed to make it law.

Rep. Yetter praised passage of the bill as "a much-needed boost for the Commonwealth in the field of travel and tourism."

"Properly administered, the

Governor Rules Out Pay Increase

HARRISBURG, April 5 (AP)—Gov. Leader today ruled out any possibility of Pennsylvania's 60,000 teachers getting a pay bonus in the current school year.

But he said he had no objection to such an extra $200 salary increase for the next school year starting July 1.

Leader didn't use the word veto but he made it plain at his news conference there was no chance at all he would approve a plan now in the House giving teachers an extra $500 in the pocket in the 1955-56 and the 1956-57 school years.

Blame

The governor blamed the legislature for failure to come up with enough actual revenue to pay a $1 million dollar appropriation for a teacher pay hike last December.

Leader said he couldn't agree that the new 3 per cent sales tax would bring in the $22 million dollars estimated by its Republican sponsors.

Asked if he believed any part of the $1 million dollars would be actually spent between now and next May 31, 1957, for a teacher salary increase, Leader replied:

"I have neither a moral nor a legal obligation to see that the teachers get $1 million dollars in this biennium and by only some financial miracle could they get $1 million dollars from the funds provided in this budget."

Flood Control Hearings Set For Next Month

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Hearings will get under way May 1 on 100 flood control and navigation projects, including two in Pennsylvania.

Any of the projects approved after the hearings conducted by the House Public Works Committee will be included in an omnibus authorization bill, which then will go to both the House and Senate for a vote. A project must be authorized before Congress can provide money for it.

Projects

The Pennsylvania projects are (with estimated cost):

Susquehanna River flood control—$84,138,000.

Delaware River navigation project from Philadelphia to the sea—$24,447,000.

Hull To Be Honored

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Cordell Hull, the man who translated President Franklin Roosevelt's good neighbor policy into improved relations with Latin America, is to be honored at Pan American Day ceremonies here next week.

Hoover Critically Injured In Route 611 Crash

A 21-YEAR-OLD Stroudsburg motorist was in critical condition at General Hospital last night with injuries suffered when his car crashed into a tractor-trailer on Route 611 about two miles south of Stroudsburg early yesterday morning.

Hospital officials were only able to repeat that Louis Hoover, of 310 Main St., suffered multiple fractures, cuts and bruises. His injuries were said to be so serious that physicians were unable to immediately take x-rays.

A passenger in Hoover's car, Miss Margaret Gebauer, 18, of 740 Ann St., was reported in good condition at the hospital last night with multiple body bruises suffered in the collision.

The accident occurred at 1:50 a. m. when Hoover's north-bound auto attempted to pass a Greyhound bus on the ascending grade on the southside of Foxtown Hill, Stroudsburg State Police reported.

In the course of passing the bus, the auto rammed into the left rear of a southbound tractor-trailer, operated by Robert Kessler, 31, of Factoryville, RD 3, troopers said.

The impact threw Hoover into the rear seat of the car, owned by Gene Comunal, proprietor of Pat and Red's Tire Store in East Stroudsburg. State Police also disclosed.

Troopers pegged total damage at $5,000. The car was completely demolished and rear wheels of the trailer were knocked loose.

A second mishap occurred at the same location just a couple minutes after the first.

Samuel Newman, 21, of 604 Thomas St., Stroudsburg, a University of Pennsylvania student, was driving north toward the scene when his car struck one of the truck's wheels still lying in the road, State Police said.

Troopers said the auto swerved out of control and crashed into the bus which came to a halt at the right side of the highway following the first accident. Newman was not injured.

THE REAR WHEELS of this heavy tractor-trailer were knocked loose when a late model car crashed into the left rear side of the truck on Foxtown Hill early yesterday morning. The truck, operated by Robert Kessler, 31, of Factoryville, RD 2, was traveling south when it was hit by the oncoming car, driven by Louis Hoover, 21, of 310 Main St., Stroudsburg. Proposed Delaware River Commission Grant Hits Snag

HARRISBURG, April 5 (AP)—A proposed $25,000 appropriation for the committee investigating the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission ran into a roadblock on the House floor today.

Calling the $25,000 figure "seemingly completely out of line with

Controversial Farm Bill Nearly Ready

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Congressional compromises worked today on final details of a catch-all election year farm bill that still faced three big hurdles: approval of the House, Senate and President Eisenhower.

"We have just about buttoned up everything," Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate House conference committee said after two more closed-door sessions.

"I think the entire bill will be ready for the House first thing Monday," he added.

Eisenhower's statement at his news conference yesterday that he will not insist on perfection raised hopes of compromise-seekers that he will sign the omnibus bill. There had been repeated warnings from Secretary of Agriculture Benson and other administration supporters that any return to higher rigid farm price supports would mean a veto.

The bulk of the bill now contains the broad $1,200,000,000 soft bank payment proposal asked on Jan. 9 by the President plus many higher price support provisions he and Benson have opposed.

Before it reaches his desk, the compromise bill must win approval of first the House and then the Senate. House Republican Leader Martin (Mass) and others have said efforts would be made to reshape the measure again on the House and Senate floors.

But Rep. Andresen (R-Minn.), one of the conferees, said he knew of no such move and from what the President "said yesterday I think he will sign it."

Rep. Hope (R-Kans.), senior GOP House conferee, said the compromise "is the best farm program that can be worked out at this time and I hope that the President will sign it."

Special Audit

The investigating committee was authorized by the House last year and has been conducting a study of the operations of the bistate agency which operates bridges across the Delaware north of Philadelphia.

The governors of New Jersey and Pennsylvania jointly reported in February that a preliminary examination disclosed wanton waste and extravagance by the toll bridge commission.

Sponsors of the bill are Reps. Yetter (D-Monroe), Metz (R-Pike) and Brennan (D-Bucks).

Leader Calls For United Control Efforts

HARRISBURG, April 5 (AP)—Gov. Leader today called for a "united effort" among governors of Northeastern States to solve flood control problems and set up a system of flood insurance.

The Pennsylvania governor made the appeal at the first meeting of a newly formed special committee set up to study flood control and insurance problems in the Keystone State.

"I hope that within a year we will be able to get the governors of the Northeastern States to join with Pennsylvania in a united effort to solve flood control and flood insurance problems," Leader said.

He pointed out that the bill is designed, primarily, to aid in publicizing Pennsylvania as a vacation and travel state.

"But the purpose of the bill is actually double, I believe, as do most of the other civic-minded citizens of this State, that we can best sell Pennsylvania to all persons by first letting them get a look at what we have to offer," Yetter said.

"This is especially true in the field of industry as well as in resort areas. A large percentage of

Two Officials Testify In Depot Probe

SCRANTON, Pa., April 5 (AP)—A warrant officer and a union official testified here today in the grand jury investigation of alleged irregularities at the 33 million dollar Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna.

Chief Warrant Officer Carl C. Strickland, U.S. Army, appeared before the federal grand jury carrying a large package. Asked about the nature of his testimony, Strickland said, "I'll let the records speak for themselves."

Strickland was in charge of property and records at the depot where he was stationed eight months.

Earlier, Thomas Gaynard, 25, Scranton, a member of Local 229, General Drivers and Helpers Union, testified before the jury. This union is the one which figured in a dynamiting investigation in 1954.

Gaynard entered the jury room accompanied by his attorney, William M. O'Malley. The union man said he had been employed at the depot driving trucks as well as unloading materials.

O'Malley said Gaynard would cooperate fully with the grand jury.

Other witnesses to appear before the jury are Wilmer E. Hibbs, Gouldsboro, who formerly served as a checker at one of the depot's warehouses, and Paul Judge, West Scranton, who was an inspector with the engineering firm of Golboy and Stoppner.

The firm handled details of plans and specifications for the depot. Later it furnished civilian inspectors to assist the Army Engineers on inspections of completed work.

Education Head Blasts 'Weaknesses'

SCRANTON, Pa., April 5 (AP)—Emery F. Bacon, education director for the United Steel Workers of America, said today there are "serious weaknesses" in the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance and urged that Gov. George M. Leader name a bipartisan commission to make a survey of the agency.

Bacon told the annual meeting of the Northeast Area, Pennsylvania Citizens Assn. for Health and Welfare "there are at least five serious weaknesses" in the State Health Department.

Aeronautics Bill Passes Senate

HARRISBURG, April 5 (AP)—The Senate tonight passed unanimously a bill providing two million dollars to be used by the state Aeronautics Commission for development and improvement of 14 Pennsylvania airports.

The airports that would receive state aid include Altoona, Erie, Mt. Pocono, Somerset, Washington, Latrobe, Wilkes-Barre-Scranton and Williamsport.

Assailant Hurls Acid Into Face Of Labor Columnist

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—A stealthy assailant, without a word of warning, hurled sulphuric acid into the eyes of newspaper labor columnist Victor Riesel early today. Riesel's eyesight was imperiled.

Only a short time earlier the nationally syndicated columnist had finished a radio attack on racketeers within the notorious International Union of Operating Engineers. He said he believed the broadcast provoked the attack.

Riesel reportedly had been threatened in an anonymous telephone call three weeks ago against writing any more stories about convicted extortioners within the union.

Asked if Riesel would lose his eyesight, Dr. Gerald Bonaccorti, chief eye surgeon at St. Clare's Hospital, told reporters:

"The diagnosis is guarded. We will not know for one week. He can see now. He has vision now. He can make out objects and light. It will take, however, about one week before we can tell what the results will be to his vision."

"Both eyes were damaged, perhaps the right eye more than the left. It is quite serious but I have hope for the best."

Riesel was attacked just after he left Lindy's restaurant at 51st St. and Broadway with Betty Nevins, a blonde who assists him in his newspaper and radio work.

"A man called to me but did not call my name," Riesel said. "Then he threw something."

Miss Nevins told police:

"I saw this man standing on the sidewalk. He walked over to Mr. Riesel and suddenly threw something at him without saying a word. I thought it was water."

However, it was sulphuric acid, an oily, searing liquid.

The attack left Riesel reeling on the sidewalk, clapping his hands to his face and moaning:

"My gosh. My gosh."

The FBI, the U. S. attorney and the district attorney's office all joined police in investigating the assault. Miss Nevins picked out several police photographs of men who resembled the assailant. They were being sought.

Miss Nevins described the assailant as a "clean-cut" man, about 26, of medium height, slim, dark-haired, and hairless. Riesel, recalled the acid thrower as "a clean-cut looking fellow—looked just like a typical American boy."

The U. S. attorney's office said Riesel recently gave information in connection with a federal grand jury probe of labor racketeering in the New York area.

Five Hurt As Ceiling Falls

READING, Pa., April 5 (AP)—The assistant store manager and four workmen were hurt today when a false ceiling collapsed in a drug store in downtown Reading.

Police said the workmen were repairing the ceiling which apparently had been weakened by recent rains.

Boy Scout Found Guilty Of Murder

WHEELING, W. Va., April 5 (AP)—Tommy Williams Jr., a 14-year-old twin who casually chewed bubble gum at his murder trial, faced a lifetime of confinement today.

But he told newsmen the dreary prospect didn't scare him.

An all-male jury found Tommy guilty of first-degree murder after a little more than an hour of deliberation today. The jurors had considered the case for three hours last night without agreement.

Tommy was convicted of the bludgeoning slaying of 9-year-old David Powell, a Cub Scout, lured into the coal cellar under the front porch of the Williams home while out selling tickets to a benefit movie.

David's body was found last Feb. 10, a day after he had disappeared. The child's skull was shattered. A blood-stained 2x4 and a hammer were near the body in the dark recess sometimes used by neighborhood youngsters as a hideout.

Robbery was listed by the state as a motive. But ticket sales were slow that night and David had no money on him.

The recommendation of mercy issued by the jurors means that a life sentence is mandatory.

Tommy was completely unemotional in the hushed courtroom today as he stood to hear the jury foreman read the verdict.

Asked if he was scared, he shook his head and replied with a negative grunt. At times during the three days of testimony he entertained himself by chewing bubble gum.

Tonight's discussion is expected to attract delegates from most areas along the Upper Delaware.

Many of those attending will be the members of an advisory committee which grew out of a similar meeting at Milford a month ago.

Among those expected to attend tonight's meeting are: William Altier, representing the Eastern Poconos; Ralph

Schools To Receive Over Million Dollars

HARRISBURG, April 5 (AP)—The House tonight approved and sent to Gov. Leader a bill to grant the 14-state teachers colleges an additional 1½ million dollars in state aid for the current two-year fiscal period.

The bill passed 178-0. It was approved unanimously by the Senate three weeks ago.

It would raise state aid for teachers' colleges to 16½ millions in the 1955-57 period.

Chairman Polen (D-Washington) of the House Appropriations Committee, said the additional grant is necessary to offset greatly increased enrollment at the teachers' colleges.

Before the vote Rep. Auker (R-Blair) told the House that "we are pouring a lot of money down the drain because we are not getting a return for the money spent."

Change Minds

He estimated that as many as 30 to 35 per cent of the graduates of the colleges "for whom the state pays one-half of their educational costs" do not teach in Pennsylvania.

He said that many teachers' college graduates go to other states because of better salaries.

The original 15 million dollar appropriation was signed into law last December. Since then the schools have estimated there will be a three million dollar deficit for the 1955-57 period.

At the same time the House passed these appropriation measures:

For the state Historical and Museum Commission to publish a new report on frontier forts, $15,000 (169-9, to Senate).

For surface drainage and sewer disposal construction at California State Teachers College, $55,000 (178-0, to governor).

For expenses of a Senate committee investigating stream pollution of the Lehigh Canal, $400 (178-0, to governor).

Boy Tells Two Stories

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—A 7-year-old boy admitted then denied tonight he carried live coals from a bonfire to a Bronx factory where six firemen died battling a five-alarm blaze last night.

The Bronx district attorney's office said the boy first told of starting a fire in an empty lot behind the artificial flower factory and carrying coals on a shovel to the one-story building.

But after two hours of questioning, they said, he repudiated the story. Investigators termed his original story "improbable" after asking him to act it out. The boy, whose name was not released, was held for further questioning but a 9-year-old companion was released.

Six firemen were crushed to death and 14 injured when a marquee on the building, a one-time movie house, suddenly snapped in the terrific heat and brought down a brick wall in a shower of rubble.

Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr., who was standing only a few feet away when the wall let go—and was hit by a flying brick, called it the worst department disaster since August 1932, when eight firemen died fighting a blaze at the old Ritz Towers.

The conference is slated for Monroe County Court House, Charles Bensinger, Stroudsburg, will serve as chairman for the meeting. He will be assisted by Sidney Krawitz, Milford.

Tonight's discussion is expected to attract delegates from most areas along the Upper Delaware.

Many of those attending will be the members of an advisory committee which grew out of a similar meeting at Milford a month ago.

Among those expected to attend tonight's meeting are: William Altier, representing the Eastern Poconos; Ralph

Paul and Stuart Pipher of the Central Labor Union; Mr. and Mrs. John K. Britton, Bushkill; Henry Ahnert, Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau; Rep. August Metz, Milford.

Also Rep. Van D. Yetter, Monroe; Sen. William Z. Scott, Lansford; Jay Schroeder, Matamoras; John E. Edraney, Dingmans Ferry; Ed Lawson, Stroudsburg council president; Jesse S. Flory, East Stroudsburg burgess and members of that borough's council.

Stroud Union Building At Low Cost

WITH THE opening of bids Wednesday night, Stroud Union School District took a major step toward its million-dollar-plus building program.

Through its agent, the Stroudsburg Area School Authority, the district saw low bids totaling $1,096,611 received and opened. If these bids are judged legally correct and contractable, the amount of the district's two-pronged construction project will be considerably lower than union board members had anticipated.

Until recently the board—made up of members of the combined school districts of Stroudsburg, Stroud Township and Delaware Water Gap—had referred to its program in terms roughly approximating a million and a quarter dollars.

Actually, the architects—Rinker and Kiefer, Stroudsburg—had counted on a cost of about $1,125,000 or a little less. This was the estimated amount "budgeted" by the board in its financial discussions.

The building program is a broad one. This is what Stroud Union School District taxpayers will be getting for their money:

A brand new elementary school building. This will include six classrooms and a kindergarten, an all-purpose room, boiler room, administrative office and an upper section for the "auditorium" when the all-purpose room is used for that purpose.

The new grade school will be located off Route 611 in Stroud township near Bridge St. section. It is to be built on land purchased by the school district from the Frank Strunk estate.

"T" Form

The elementary building will be constructed, roughly, in a modified "T" form. It will measure approximately 245 feet across the front, about 66 feet wide in its longest, classroom-corridor section. To the rear the architects have planned a nearly rectangular structure to house the all-purpose room and boiler room. This is a section 69 feet wide by 54 feet long.

The remainder of the building program is concentrated on the present high school grounds. This is the major portion of the project.

At the high school two new wings are to be built. One of these—called Wing A on architect's plans—will house a new gymnasium, three classrooms, showers, dressing rooms, lockers and storage space for athletic equipment. This wing will be about 194 feet long by 128 feet wide.

The second wing will be built in an off-balance T shape. It will measure 158 feet on its longest side. Wing B will house facilities for vocational agriculture—including an ag "shop"—industrial arts (with woodworking and metal shops), a new homemaking department, music rooms, classrooms and storage space for chorus gowns and band instruments. Space will also be provided for rehearsal rooms and practice rooms for students.

But new construction does not constitute all of the high school building program. Space now used as the gymnasium at the school will be remodeled and altered to make room for a cafeteria and kitchen.

The gymnasium is in the basement of the building. The new cafeteria will measure an estimated 65 by 55 feet. A new boiler room will adjoin.

From the present first floor, a reinforced-concrete floor will be extended across the top of the present gym site. When this floor is completed, a new library will be constructed on the first floor space. This will measure about 61 by 65 feet. It will include space for a work room and for reading rooms.

Also to be constructed on this floor extension are three conference rooms, two science rooms and a corridor running through the back as a connecting link between the present building and Wing B.

Program

The new construction program—as evident from the brief summary of plans preceding—is a complex and broad one. For this reason bidding on the job was spirited and heavy. Firms from all areas of Northeast Pennsylvania were represented by bids.

Bids on general construction were heaviest in number. But the other phases of the job attracted nearly as many firms from both local and outside sources.

The following is a complete listing of all bids received by the Authority. The list does not include alternate bids, however. In drawing up specifications for the job for bidders, the Authority stipulated that firms enter the following for general construction: High school—a base bid and four alternates, covering material substitutions in varied forms; Elementary school—a base bid and three alternates, again covering material substitutions. Firms were allowed to enter bids for either phase of the building program. If they chose to do so, they could also enter a combined bid.

It was on a combined bid of $774,775 that Stroudsburg's Paul Edinger apparently came in low man in bidding. Edinger's bid for the high school construction alone was also low—$609,000. But his bid for the elementary school was $173,805—roughly $2,000 higher than the low bid for that phase entered by Charles Frank, also Stroudsburg.

The Authority specified in its advertising for bids, however, that it was to be allowed to accept the lowest overall bid—combined or otherwise. Edinger's combined bid places cost of the elementary school construction on his bid lower than any other submitted.

General construction bids, other than Edinger's and Frank's, submitted were the following:

Condon Construction Co., Scranton—Elementary school base bid of $188,943 with no combined bid and no bid on the high school job. William P. Doall Inc., Bangor—High school base bid of $632,000; grade school base bid of $174,000; combined bid of $802,000.

Fazio and Heller, Stroudsburg—

Grade school base bid of $178,335 with no high school or combined bids submitted. Goodman and Bell, Allentown—High school base bid of $622,800; elementary base bid of $178,400 and a combined bid of $794,600.

Boyd H. Kline, Bloomsburg—High school base bid of $648,900; grade school, no base bid submitted, but a combined bid of $832,000. S. G. Mastriani Co., of Scranton—High school base bid of $637,950; grade school bid of $177,400, with a combined bid of $815,350.

Pethick Construction Co., Wilkes-Barre—High school base bid of $701,900; elementary base bid of $207,800 with no combined bid. Raymond and Son of Taylor, Pa.—Elementary base bid of $170,560 only. H. E. Stoudt and Son, Allentown—High school base bid of $621,480; grade school base bid of $184,200; combined bid of $797,900. Tabone and Barbara of Pittston—High school base bid of $632,800; grade school base bid of $194,500; combined bid of $824,800.

Highest bids submitted for general construction came from A. L. Rake and Co., East Stroudsburg. Rake and Co.—High school base

Jack Kerlin, an Association officer and a leader in the drive to get some form of centralized group parking area for years, allied the Council's decision "a wonderful step."

Council Takes Forward Steps On Water Company And Parking

Two steps of great import were taken by Stroudsburg Borough Council at its April meeting Wednesday night.

It unanimously approved acquisition by the Stroudsburg Municipal Authority of the Monroe Water Supply Co. And it moved to set up a Municipal Parking Authority to provide much needed parking lots adjacent to the business district.

Council gave its approval to purchase of the water company for $663,560 after hearing from three consulting firms which assisted the Municipal Authority in studying the feasibility of acquiring the utility.

An engineer affiliated with Albright and Friel, Philadelphia consulting firm, reported that in accordance with terms of the proposed agreement of sale, a total bond issue in the amount of $760,000 will be required to finance acquisition of the water company by the authority.

This figure will include the purchase price, working capital, bond issue cost, bond discount and miscellaneous acquisition costs.

Operating revenues, based on recent figures made available by the company, would amount to $70,000, while operating expenses would total $23,000. This would leave an operating income of $47,000, according to Albright and Friel.

Their report advised that the "project can be financed without any increase in the rates."

The firm previously recommended that in view of the damage done by the flood to the existing supply and the possibility of further damage from future floods, consideration be given to the development of a new or an additional source of supply. This would not be done for a number of years, the authority has indicated.

"Inasmuch as the authority cannot proceed with the development of a new or additional source of supply at the present time," Albright and Friel said, "it would be necessary to finance the cost of this new supply by means of a supplemental bond issue. It will then be necessary to increase revenues in order to meet the debt service requirements of this additional bond issue."

Proposed improvements for fire protection will also be included in the future bond issue and they will largely be financed by increases ing the fire hydrant rental.

The report points out that if the present company were to make the necessary changes and additions, it would be entitled to a rate increase greater than under the authority because the authority is exempt from federal and state taxes which a private company must pay.

In making the studies that led to the purchase recommendation, council and authority members spent considerable time and effort. They are to be complimented.

Municipal ownership of the water company is a forward-looking step that promises to provide a greater supply of pure water to meet the ever-increasing needs and demands of a growing community at a reasonable rate that only a municipal authority can provide.

The important task that will face the authority will be in meeting future needs through an improvement and expansion program. If an adjustment of rates is essential to finance the work at that time, it is imperative that the increase be kept at an absolute minimum. If this is done, and there is no reason to think otherwise, water consumers should be willing to accept the new rate knowing full well they are receiving a dollar's worth of service for every dollar they spend.

Overshadowed by the water company action but not to be minimized is council's vote to set up a Parking Authority.

The parking situation in the central business section of Stroudsburg has grown progressively worse each Summer for a great many years. Council has tried to act within its own framework to establish parking lots that would help relieve the congestion, but has been stymied by too many handicaps, such as refusal of land owners to sell a plot in the center of a desirable tract.

A Parking Authority would have greater powers and thus would be able to set up lots where practical. Council is to be commended for knocking down some of the roadblocks that stand in the way of easing the parking problem here. It is doubtful whether the authority can be organized in time to do much this Summer, but it can move with enough speed once it is formed to make the picture look bright.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Symington And Lausche Emerge As Strong Dark Horse Candidates For Nomination

All the Democratic candidates are willing to say that they can beat President Eisenhower. Their arguments do not sound realistic.

At first, the Democrats thought that they could kill off Eisenhower by throwing dead cats at the Vice President. Richard Nixon, it came to nothing.

Then the Democrats began to fight among themselves and they sounded like a lot of 1932 Republicans. The Kefauver-Stevenson debate adds nothing to the reputation of either. The Shivers-Johnson quarrel in Texas is meaningless because Sam Rayburn will undoubtedly prevail.

There is a vulgarism in this campaign as a result of President Eisenhower's heart attack. Naturally, a heart attack is a serious matter; so is pneumonia, a tumor of the brain, or even slipping on a cake of soap in a bathtub. The political gamble of the year is whether President Eisenhower will be able to go through with a tough campaign. There is even speculation as to what might happen if Eisenhower were to die before he could be inaugurated. The Congress would probably have to elect a President and it would probably be Sam Rayburn. The Supreme Court might even be called upon to decide whether the vice president-elect qualified. This ugly, this really unmanly speculation is the cause for the feverish activity in the Democratic Party—an activity so feverish that there is even a campaign on for the vice presidency. Mayor Wagner of New York City being most active in that field.

At this point, attention needs to be called to two Democratic dark horses who are being taken very seriously in both Democratic and Republican circles. One is Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio who is seeking the Democratic nomination for senator in his state and who is likely to be elected. On all sides, it is admitted that Gov. Lausche would make the strongest Democratic candidate for the presidency; some believe that he could unite the Democratic Party and defeat President Eisenhower. He has five times been elected Governor of Ohio.

The other, Stuart Symington, is senator from Missouri. He has been a businessman, a Cabinet officer and a legislator and could be more acceptable to Southern Democrats than either Kefauver or Harriman. He got a bit fouled up during the McCarthy-Army hearings but it is doubtful if that would hurt him such with Democrats whose problem it is to find a candidate who can consolidate the Southern and the Northern big city wings of their party. The leading candidates, Kefauver, Stevenson and Harriman, have not established their ability to achieve such unity.

This is a serious matter for such a Northern big city leader as Carmine DeSapio of New York who was correct in estimating that Stevenson would have a tough time of it. A year ago, he down-graded Stevenson. But DeSapio has not been able to stir up a clamor for Harriman nor has he found any other candidate to support. If Harriman could be nominated, it would be of some political advantage to DeSapio.

One of DeSapio's difficulties is Mayor Wagner's ambition to run for vice president. If Harriman is the candidate for president, Wagner cannot be the candidate for vice president as the convention is not going to nominate two men from New York. Therefore, despite the fact that it is bad local politics, Wagner has declared for Stevenson. This has produced a very embarrassing situation in New York Democratic circles and may lead to lots of trouble for the mayor.

The Democrats have rarely been faced by such a complex situation since the years when Al Smith was a candidate. One of their most serious problems is to raise money for the campaign. The Republicans are rich and they will undoubtedly be able to raise all the money they need from the prosperous corporations who have never had it so good.

The Democrats will need to find their money from among the labor unions and from the corporations who contribute to both parties because they do not know which is the right dog. The labor unions are apparently holding off until they there is likely to be little racketeer money for either party because the racketeers are for the moment afraid of investigations, of which there are plenty.

ed to fix me up with a rowboat and outboard motor but I knew how embarrassed me and you and the Prince would be if I phut-phutted around the Riviera waters in an outboard motor boat and even developed sparkplug trouble at the height of the festivities. This yacht mixup really hurt and I think it could have been a plot by that rich Greek Aristotle Socrates Onassis who is very jealous of other big yachtmen and has every boat under 100 feet screened by Elsa Maxwell.

Business failure is particularly high among enterprises during their first year or two of operation. Among longer established firms, 4 to 5 per cent are dissolved or closed in a year of fairly favorable business conditions and in addition an average of 10 per cent change hands.

The picturesque thatched roofs of the English countryside are gradually giving way to slates, tile and asbestos shingles.

Helping Lonely Persons Find Marital Mates

When a youngish spinster spends several hundred dollars on clothes and a sea voyage, we applaud her intelligent approach to the age-old problem. She is looking for Mr. Right? But if we learned that she had in desperation joined a lonely hearts "introduction" club—disgraceful!

This bit of hypocrisy was poignantly described by Earl Miles Wallace, Ph. D., in an article about his experience conducting a personal acquaintance service. Lonely hearts club, he says, will continue to exist as long as our society continues to ignore the plight of unmarrieds who consider "single blessedness" anything but that.

How does one select a mate? Or worse yet, what if it isn't a question of selection, but finding one lone prospect—just one? It is easy to conclude that normal attractive people will somehow meet other normal attractive people. That they will marry and live happily, etc. . . . That they don't, always, is a matter of sorry record. It is one thing to have muffed many marital opportunities, but quite another to have lived where few, if any, opportunities existed.

Some of the "muffers"—far from remaining single—leap in and out of matrimony so frequently that no self-respecting lonely hearts club would permit their names on the roster. Our society, however, views much-married and much-divorced with some admiration and amusement, reserving disapproval for those who "stoop" to lonely hearts clubs.

Why should that be so for lonely thousands of otherwise normally happy folk who, for reasons beyond their control, lack opportunity for meeting suitable friends? Should there be a stigma attached to loneliness? Shame attached to the desire for suitable companionship?

If introduction clubs are believed to harbor clients possessed of serious personality faults—their mutual inability to find friends—we have Mr. Wallace's experience to the contrary. Nine out of 10, he says, are highly worthy people whose environment was inadequate for meeting eligibles. They join such clubs reluctantly and with misgivings, only after more "acceptable" avenues appear as dead-ends.

What nonsense it all is that any stigma whatever should be associated with the most normal human need—a happy marriage. What an outrage it is that people of sensibility and character should be driven to underground methods for contacting others of similar backgrounds and beliefs.

It seems to me that an officially and socially recognized bureau should be set up, commending and assisting those who desire matrimony. They do desire such obligations and responsibilities is a mark of intelligence and maturity, not the reverse. Such a bureau, administered by competent advisors and guided by thorough investigation, would certainly be a likelier way to successful marriage than some of our present examples of selection.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

The moral of this little story, which was printed in the Rotarian, is that average mortals never realize how many things they crave until a cagey advertising expert points out the facts to them.

A thriving little industrial plant in Panama employed twenty local women. One day they just stopped coming, and such inducements as higher pay and shorter hours didn't budge them an inch. They had earned all they needed for months at least, they explained; why work any more? The boss finally hit upon a solution. He sent each of them a big Chicago mail-order catalogue. They were back at their places—every last of them—the following Monday.

An Indianapolis judge promptly granted a divorce to a lady who complained that her husband never missed a wrestling match on TV. What's more, when it was over, he insisted on practising the holds on her.

Special Plans For 'Tobyhanna Days' Surge Into High Gear

Merchants To Back Series Of Events

PLANS for "Tobyhanna Days" in the Stroudsburg area surged into high gear yesterday. The special event is slated for May 11 and 12.

As a meeting of Stroudsburg merchants in the Treaty Room of the Penn-Stroud Hotel it became apparent that local stores not only will offer "the greatest values of the year" but will also take part in a mammoth free drawing financed by merchants.

Featured in the drawing will be at least three "Grand Prizes" and more than 100 prizes of high value to be given by individual merchants. If the present plan materializes.

A three-man committee was named to contact all merchants in the borough concerning the awarding of prizes and full participation in the drive to make "Tobyhanna Days" an "even greater success than last year's special event" for depot employees.

Members of the committee are Ralph Brodsky, chairman; Edward Somers, and John Quaresimo. The committee will be responsible for setting up grand prizes to be awarded and contacting all merchants concerning store prizes.

In reporting on steps taken so far, Jack Kerlin, coordinator with the Businessmen's Association and the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, said that officials at Tobyhanna Signal Depot are "giving us every bit of cooperation we could possibly want."

Two Exhibits
Kerlin said that two major Signal Depot exhibits will be set up—one in Stroudsburg, one in East Stroudsburg. He reported that Col. Robert Angster, commanding officer at the depot, had indicated that these displays will be elaborate and thorough examples of Armed Forces work done at the depot and around the world.

At the same time, Kerlin said, local businessmen will offer their cooperation in publicizing and aiding the depot in its celebration of Armed Forces Day, slated to take place during the following week. In this spirit of cooperation, he said, both the depot and local communities will benefit greatly on all fronts.

Motor Club To Oppose Litterbugs

ANNOUNCEMENT was made at the meeting of the governors of the Pocono Mountains Motor Club last night that Joseph J. Lawler, State Secretary of Highways, would be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the club Monday night, April 30.

The meeting will be held in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel at 8 p.m. R. LeRoy Dengler, the president, will be in charge of the meeting which is open to all interested in motoring. Luncheon will be served at the close of the meeting.

Highlight
One of the highlights will be the election of eight governors for full term and one vacancy to be filled. Reports will be submitted during the meeting also. A large attendance is anticipated.

The local club decided to take an active part in the Litterbug campaign, a movement to cut down throwing trash on the highways. Those back of the project have provided paper bags in which to place trash to be placed in proper points. A thousand bags will be ordered by the local club to be handed out to motorists calling at club headquarters for use. This has been a popular project in Monroe County for years.

There was discussion of slowness in replacing bridges washed away in the 1955 flood. Club officers have visited state headquarters at Harrisburg on several occasions with requests for action, but without definite results to date. Ann St. traffic in Stroudsburg was also discussed.

A letter of appreciation was received from the Clinton Larn family for flowers sent by the club on his death. Mr. Larn was a member of the board of governors for many years.

There were 81 emergency road service calls responded to during the last month—49 local and 32 foreign, costing $325.75.

Governors expressed their appreciation of the repainting and improvements made to the local headquarters.

The club has completed a successful fiscal year with a gain of 251 new members received during that period.

The total is now 2,671.

East Stroudsburg Council Takes Initial Steps Toward Improvement Of Streets, Water

INITIAL STEPS for an $85,000 streets improvement project have already been taken by the East Stroudsburg Borough Council.

Council this week authorized Borough Secretary Sterling Cramer to advertise for bids to repair borough streets damaged in last Summer's flood. Cramer said the bids will be received at the regular May meeting of council.

The borough secretary said the following streets will be affected: Lincoln, Lenox and Oakland Aves., and Hancock, Rose, Harrison, Day, Barnum, Henry, Elizabeth, Walnut, Gold, Park, Roller, Fulton, Borough, W. Broad, Gilbert and Garfield Sts.

Council has also voted to advertise for bids for work on a diversion ditch from Michael Creek to the Upper Reservoir. It's expected that bids for this work will be opened at council's June meeting.

Mr. Cramer pointed out that this is the first step in the borough's $580,000 water system improvement program. The project also calls for construction of a new filtering system, and acquisition of necessary land.

The borough secretary also reported that council has acknowledged receipt of a check for $933.05 from the Rotary Club. The money is to be used to buy equipment for the borough playground, which was badly damaged by the flood.

Rotary Hears 'Rackets' Talk

STROUDSBURG ROTARY CLUB heard an address on "Rackets, Frauds, Swindles and Gypsies" yesterday at the weekly dinner meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The speaker was William E. Dunkinson Jr., manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Civics of the Oranges and Maplewood, N. J.

The meeting was highlighted by the club's first observance of Competitors Relations Day, in which the Rotarians entertained one of their business competitors at the meeting.

Information

Mr. Dunkinson's talk blended humor with factual information and divulged the methods and techniques used to "put across" schemes that fleece millions of dollars annually from businessmen and householders.

He outlined ways to recognize and curb crime. Among the swindles described were those involving fake charity drives, telephone quizzes, and advertising programs, panhandling, shoplifting, used clothing racket, COD package and underdrum merchandise gyms. He also cautioned about other frauds such as those in which home and car owners are the victims.

Dunkinson showed how it is risky business to cash checks, rent rooms or to hire baby sitters or maids.

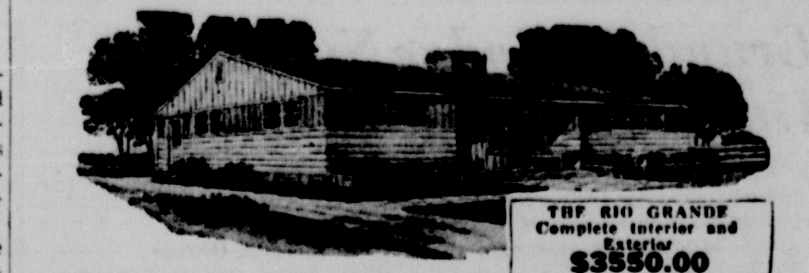

Yettters Sell Building, Lot

MR. AND Mrs. Arthur L. Yetter, Smithfield Township, have transferred a building and land in Middle Smithfield to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Richards, Philadelphia.

Deed

The transfer was indicated in a deed filed yesterday in the office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz. Mr. and Mrs. James K. Drieh, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., have transferred a lot in Stroud Township to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Smale, Stroud Township.

In 1831, the first Savings and Loan Association in the United States was founded at Frankford, Pennsylvania. This first Association was founded to help its members save for and buy their own homes.

Today, more Americans go to insured Savings and Loan Associations for home financing than anywhere else.

6,000 new savers each day!

Today, the people of America are saving for many important things and look with special confidence to Savings and Loan Associations. The number of savers in insured Associations has increased in 125 years to over 15 million . . . and new savers are coming to these insured Associations at the rate of 6,000 each day! Assets of insured Associations have soared to $34.5 billion!

These savings dollars are not subject to market fluctuations and are protected by sound, forward-looking management and substantial reserves. Savings accounts are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—a U. S. Government agency.

Responsibility to public trust

Today, Americans are putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else. This tremendous vote of confidence imposes responsibility to adhere to the principles which have caused these Associations to grow with America for 125 years.

On the occasion of this 125th anniversary, the Savings and Loan Associations pledge themselves to the continuation of these principles which have enabled them to serve so successfully two of America's most cherished traditions . . . thrift and home ownership.

A 140-ACRE TRACT that had been an eyesore since last August's flood has been turned into a place of beauty. When Pocono Creek overflowed its banks during the record-level flood, it deposited many tons of debris on the land. Earl Jeffrist and Edward Fisher, of Canadensis, engineers employed by the Department of Forests and Waters, supervised burial of the debris that couldn't be burned and leveling off the dirt covering by bulldozers. Change Made In Property Fishing Code

SCORES OF Monroe County farm owners and lessees of farms that have artificial ponds may now fish in them without a license.

Until now, owners and lessees were required to have a permit, however, a new law just signed by the Governor eliminates the requirement.

The owner and lessee, their families and other persons residing or regularly employed on the farm can now fish without a license and with no regard for season or creel limit. The only proviso is that it be an artificial pond whose water source is wholly within the farm limits.

Provisions

If trout or bass are taken off the premises during the closed season the owner or lessee of the farm shall give the person carrying the fish a written statement showing date, place, by whom the fish were taken, the number and species of fish, name and address of the person transporting them and the date they are being transported.

Unless these regulations are complied with, anyone transporting trout or bass during the closed season is subject to the same penalties as others fishing out of season—$10 per fish.

A Little Vacation In Every Day!

What's it like to take the wheel of a 1956 Cadillac?

If you don't already know, then we hope you'll come with us now on a little imaginary journey in the "car of cars".

Suppose, if you will, that you're in the driver's seat. The hour is early morning as you turn from the driveway and sweep out into the broad, inviting boulevard.

How wonderful you feel. Those deep, luxurious cushions hold you in perfect comfort—your hands rest naturally on the slender wheel—and all about you are vision... and beauty... and luxury.

It's an inspiration just to watch the miles go by.

And how quiet and restful it is. The car is so smooth and silent in operation that your only sense of motion comes from the sound of the wind and from the passing landscape.

Driving? Well, what could be more relaxing! Starting... stopping... turning—all are regulated with the lightest touch of toe and hand. You simply lean back and enjoy the ride... and the car does all the rest.

What's it like at the wheel of a 1956 Cadillac?

Well, we've heard it said that a drive in a new Cadillac isn't really a drive at all, in the normal sense of the word. It's a time for rest and pleasure and relaxation...

an interlude that refreshes a man and enriches his spirit.

As one of our friends put it—"It's like having a little vacation every day!"

Better come in for a visit some day soon.

If you should decide to move up to a Cadillac, it will be our purpose to make you as pleased with your relationship with us, as your dealer, as you are certain to be with the car itself.

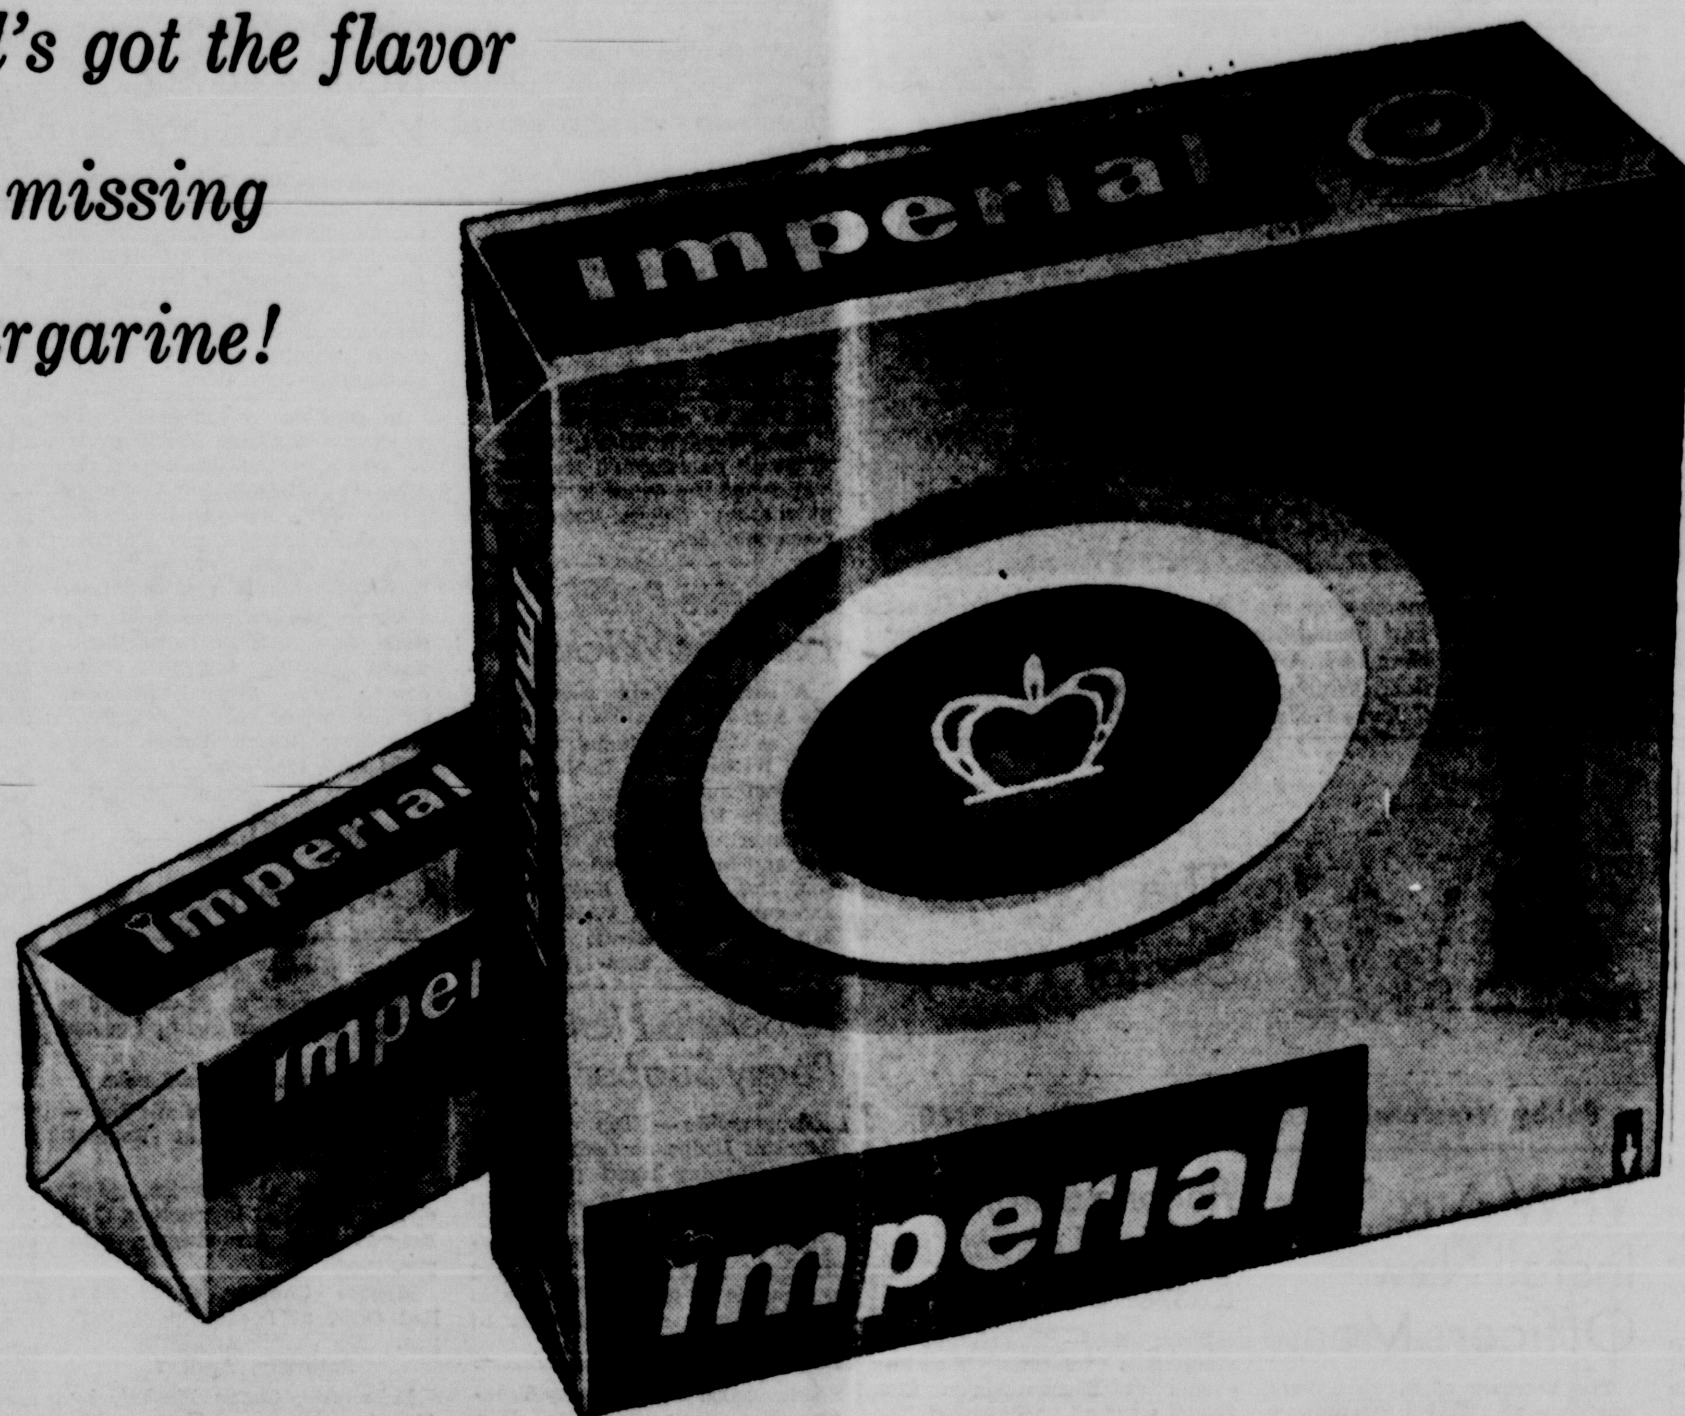

The Cadillac name has long been a symbol of automotive integrity and honesty of purpose—and we make every effort to have our own business reflect the same ideals in our dealings with owners.

imperial* IS THE FIRST MARGARINE
UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED TO TASTE
LIKE THE HIGH-PRICED SPREAD!

You're going to be seeing a brand new product at your grocer's today . . . a product so superior that it carries a guarantee never before made — in all of margarine history. Imperial is the first margarine guaranteed to bring you the tantalizing flavor formerly found only in the expensive spread for bread.

IMPERIAL'S GOT THAT FLAVOR

Flavor is what's been missing in margarine. And flavor is what Lever Brothers devoted seven years to achieve. It wasn't hard to make Imperial spread smoother and easier than any other margarine. And it wasn't hard to make Imperial as nutritious as even the most expensive spread you can buy. The trick was flavor. And Imperial is the first margarine to capture and hold that unmistakable flavor everybody loves.

YOU AGREE—OR LEVER BROTHERS RETURNS YOUR MONEY

We know you may find it hard to believe that a margarine could live up to all we claim for Imperial. So to make it possible for you to try Imperial without any risk, Lever Brothers unconditionally guarantees that if Imperial doesn't taste like the high-priced spread to you — they'll return every penny you spent to try it.

P.S. Like the high-priced spread, Imperial is delicate and perishable. So to protect its perfect flavor, always keep Imperial in your refrigerator.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Wow! What a day. Nobody wanted to talk about anything else but the weather, and nobody wanted to do anything but be out in it. However, the club schedule moves inexorably forward like the car of the Juggernaut.

(And by the way, the dictionary now pooh-poohs the idea that devotees of Vishnu used to allow themselves to be crushed under the wheels of the car in blind devotion, so there goes another figure of speech).

It's scarcely a figure of speech though to point out that mothers are all but crushed under the avalanche of summer clothing that the youngsters dig up from closet and bureau drawer with that first warm day, all of it needing to be washed and ironed and in a hurry, quick, before they die of heat prostration.

And about to die of mathematical celebration are the officers of the Skittler's League trying to figure out an all-team playoff for the bowling season with first and second hand rankings to contend with. Enough to give an electronic brain a nervous breakdown.

I could have saved myself a lot of brain work about that Mount Tammany business if I'd called Tom Knepp in the first place. He's got all the details down in the new book he's been working on during his sabbatical.

Maybe I'll do a little research, myself, into such pleasant matters as who thought up the names of Paradise and Promised Land.

MEASURING UP FOR A concert are the four coed member of the University of Tulsa Radio Concert chorus which will sing at the Junior High School in East Stroudsburg on April 12 under the auspices of the Varsity E Club. Ruler in hand and eyes on the hem, Mrs. Arthur Hesiwood checks to see that all dresses hang the same distance (13 inches) from the floor. Waiting to see if they pass the 13-inch test are, from left, Frances Fontaine Mitchell, Donna Ross, Joyce Holleman and Sue Deardoff.

Legion Aux. Votes Support Of Area Fair

Newfoundland Unit No. 859, American Legion Auxiliary, voted to give its support to the revival of the Greene-Dreher Fair this Autumn at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Donald Barnes, Angels, recently.

The fair, one of the oldest community affairs of its type in northeastern Pennsylvania, was discontinued last year after operating for 38 years. The revival effort has been underway since late last year following an expression of public interest in its renewal.

In other business, the Unit heard reports on the Girl Scout troop it is sponsoring, Americanism and the "teen-canters" which opens Sunday as the result of the combined efforts of local youth and civic organizations.

The Unit voted to serve a dinner in the school cafeteria on Memorial Day and to make an Americanism award to an eighth grade student of the Salem Township School as in the past.

Mrs. LeRoy Bartleson, president, announced that the Spring meeting of the Wayne-Pike Council of the auxiliary would meet at Lookout on April 21.

This is bad news for ants . . . but times are getting tougher and tougher and this summer life won't be any picnic! At least it won't be any picnic if all the picknickers who have been grumbling about bugs in the lemonade and ants in the potato salad vividly see in a neat little net umbrella now being sold in our Sears housewares department.

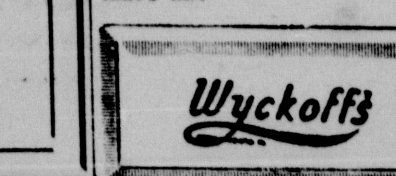

The net food protector looks for all the world like a parasol and operates on the same principle. It has ribs of steel, and a wooden spool that pulls up and down to open and close it. What's more it comes in such bright sunny colors as pink, yellow, blue and green. Rather than being designed to keep raindrops at bay, it is planned to shield delicacies from hordes of insect invaders. Believe me, if the ants were in the macaroni last year, they're in a pickle now! They're going to be as poor as a country mouse . . . and as far as being in the chips, they won't even be in the POTATO CHIPS.

Leona Spangler tells me these "bug-bershots" were introduced a few seasons ago at the seashore, and local residents became acquainted with them there. However, they were a bit on the expensive side. Now they've come to Wyckoff-Sears, at such a reasonable price one customer has already purchased three.

Judging from the Sears display of garden utilities, one would say that life this summer is destined to be just one big picnic for anyone who enjoys the vast outdoors. For patio serving, there's nothing handier on the market than the new Teeter Tray priced at 2.98, and it's pretty too. Of plastic, in a design and style representing wrought iron, the Teeter Tray has three slots (each holding two tall plastic glasses) that swing on hinges so that whichever way the tray tilts they are always in perfect balance. As a matter of fact, you can even turn the tray upright and swing it by one handle, and still have no spillage. . . it's the cleverest thing you ever saw, and probably the safest.

Mrs. Spangler also stocks individually sized Scotch Ice. These handy cans, that you freeze in your refrigerator, before tucking into lunch baskets, Scotch Koolers, and picnic boxes, are as small as frozen fruit juice containers—and will probably prove worth their weight in gold. Four of them in a cardboard carton are priced at 69c.

And then there's the outdoor grill—more beautiful and efficient than ever this year. These come as inexpensive as you desire . . . but at 29.95 there's a stunning Kenmore aluminum grill with hood, deep charcoal pit, and electrically operated rotisserie. At 14.98 one can buy a similar grill without the spit. The champion of all is, of course, the 49.98 wrought iron number, barrow style, with a wide undershelf, wheels, and handles for easy moving. This has a deep hooded charcoal pit with a revolving grill that adjusts to any height, a work shelf, electric rotisserie, and numerous other features. Grilling will certainly be thrilling this year. But if you're still worried about those ants . . . well, they'll just have to form bread lines and BEG, that's all!

Record 1955 sales of face-amount investment certificates and mutual fund shares of the subsidiary and affiliated companies of Investors Diversified Services, Inc., Minneapolis, have won national recognition for T. M. Curtis of 515 Lindbergh Ave., Stroudsburg.

Pa. zone manager in this area for IDS.

Mr. Curtis will receive an award for top sales and service achievements, including membership in the IDS President's Club, an annual honor roll of the company's leading representatives. He won President's Club membership in competition with more than 2,300 representatives, who serve more than 810,000 customer accounts over the North American continent.

Grady Clark, vice president-sales, said the awards reflected the results of a record year of greatly increased investor activity. Gross sales production in the United States rose to more than $315 million, an increase of $56 million over the year-ago figure of $259 million. Sales of shares in the four mutual investment funds managed and distributed by IDS amounted to more than $206 million of the total, Mr. Clark said.

Now in its 62nd year of business, Investors Diversified Services, Inc. has shown steady growth throughout its history. Since the company was founded in 1894 to meet the investment needs of average Americans, its assets under management have risen from a modest $2,600—the first year's assets—to more than $1.9 billion in 1955. These assets represent the investments of many thousands of people of average means in all walks of life.

IDS has six subsidiary and affiliated companies in the United States. They are Investors Syndicate of America, Inc., which issues face-amount investment certificates; Investors Syndicate Title and Guaranty Company, which issues face-amount participation certificates only in New York State; Investors Mutual, Inc., the world's largest "balanced" open-end investment fund; Investors Stock Fund, Inc.; Investors Selective Fund, Inc.; and Investors Group Canadian Fund Ltd.

Family Hurt In Turnpike Accident

PORTLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manzi, children Donna, Renee, and Thomas, of Farmington, Mich., returned to that locality after spending the Easter vacation with Mr. Manzi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ponett.

On their way here on Friday, they met with a head-on collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike as they were coming off of that road.

Mrs. Manzi was thrown through the windshield and Mr. Manzi had both of his knees injured.

The children had slight bruises. They were all taken to the Harrisburg Hospital where they were treated and on Saturday released.

They proceeded on to the home of their parents in Stateford. Their car was demolished and on Sunday they returned by train to their home in Michigan.

Herman and Edith Lax, Mr. Lax has been in the women's shoe business for 25 years with some of the leading style-shoe chains.

The 958-million-bushel U. S. wheat crop in 1955 was the smallest since 1943.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., April 5 — For the second straight day brilliant Cleveland pitching stopped the New York Giants today by a score of 2-0.

Just as Bob Lemon and Bob Feller did the trick yesterday, this time Herb Score, Ray Narleski and Bud Haley collaborated on a five-hitter.

The first run came in the fifth on a passed ball and was unearned. The next one was a homer by Vic Wertz over the rightfield fence to open the sixth.

Braves Down Brooks

NEW ORLEANS, April 5 — Hank Aaron and Bobby Thomson hit home runs to lead the Milwaukee Braves to an 8-6 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers today. Rookie Charlie Neal and Roy Campanella also homered for the Braves.

Seven of the Braves' runs came off Carl Erskine who allowed 10 hits in the first five innings.

Redlegs Nip Nats

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5 — Johnny Temple rapped out a ninth inning single to score Roy McMillan today and the Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Washington Senators again today, 4-3, at nearby Camp Gordon.

Stroudsburg Riflemen Set For Big Meet

STROUDSBURG High's rifle team will bid for honors in the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association's state rifle championships at Penn State University tomorrow.

The Mountaineer marksmen, coached by Will Woodley, will leave for University Park, Pa., this afternoon and will go on the firing line at noon tomorrow.

The local shooters are representing Region Three in the PIAA's state-wide setup.

Scheduled to make the journey are Paul Hamblin, Bill Hamblin, Dick Anglemeyer, Jerry Davis, Skip Dennis, John Welter, Mike Forney, Jack Durkee, Jack Kintz and Bob Bowman.

This is the third straight year that Stroudsburg High will be represented at the Keystone scholastic rifle runoffs.

Cites System Of Control In Inking Boxers

BALTIMORE, April 5 — Les Sponsler, a new promoter trying to revive boxing in Baltimore, reported today it is "tough" because "certain people control certain fighters" who want to name setup opponents and ask too much money.

Sponsler, who with Jack Portney was given the Baltimore promoting license after an abortive attempt to move the Monday night television bouts here, told of his trials to the Sports Reporters Assn., of Baltimore.

"Preliminary fighters are five cents a dozen," he reported. "But for the top fighters you got to do business through the grapevine. Nobody knows who has the reins, but somebody has."

Describes Visit

He described his visit to New York where he met managers "who looked like they're ready to pull a gun on you. They have a cigar in their mouth and talk out of the side of the mouth."

"They all have to see somebody else before they can do business."

"You can make a match if they can name the opponent—somebody you never heard of."

Sponsler said he and Portney do not "intend to go for that kind of stuff."

Ez Available

He named Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion, as one offered for a Baltimore fight if the opponent could be picked.

Sponsler told the sports reporters "what the newspapers have been carrying from Los Angeles is true." He referred to a special committee's investigation in California of boxing which has heard testimony of fixed fights and tie-ups between promoters and fighters.

Twin-Boro Ladies

THE TWIN-BORO Ladies League will resume action today at the Pocono Bowling Center, Stroudsburg, starting at 6:55 p.m. The schedule:

Alleys one and two—Warner's Funeral Home vs Johnnie's Inn.

Alleys five and six—Thomas' Funeral Home vs Bartonville Hotel.

Alleys seven and eight—Lawson Automotive vs Sommers Bros.

Girl, 13, Cops Swim Laurels In AAU Meet

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 5 — Shelley Mann, for two years the nation's outstanding woman swimmer, today was dethroned by a 13-year-old California girl in the 400-yard individual medley of the Women's National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

Sylvia Ruuska, coached by her Finnish-born father, Welko Ruuska, and representing the Berkeley, Calif., YMCA, set a new record for the punishing medley event and easily outdistanced Miss Mann, 18.

In the 100 yards of butterfly stroke which opens the medley Miss Mann took a slight lead and increased it to five yards through the 100 yards of backstroke. Miss Ruuska caught up in the 100 yards of breaststroke and pulled away steadily through the final 100 of freestyle.

Bettors Own Mark

Her winning time of 5 minutes 14.9 seconds bettered a 5:16.8 she made at Miami a week ago and wiped out Miss Mann's old mark of 5:18.6 in this meet a year ago. Today Miss Mann, representing Walter Reed Swim Club of Washington, D.C., was second in 5:21.9.

Wanda Werner, 15, high school sophomore representing Walter Reed, won the 100-yard freestyle championship.

The Bethesda, Md. lass surged ahead in the final 25 yards to barely edge Helen Stewart of the Canadian Amateur Swim Federation in 58.6 seconds.

Defending champion Mary Jane Sears, 16, of Walter Reed retained her 200-yard breaststroke title and bettered the new record she made in a morning qualifying heat.

Eclipses Record

The high school junior from Chevy Chase, Md., swam the 250 yards in 3 minutes 22.1 seconds, eclipsing her morning mark of 3:25.1. The previous record was 3:27.4, set by Gail Peters in 1953.

Miss Sears, a tall blonde, led after the first 25 yards and had to be in form to win from her tammate, Marie Gillett, who also beat the record with a time of 3:24.8.

Carin Cone, 15, a high school sophomore from Ridgewood, N.J., broke the American record winning the 200-yard backstroke title. Her time of 2 minutes 26.4 seconds bettered the old record of 2:27.0 by Barbara Stark of San Francisco in 1953.

The New Jersey teenager also holds the national outdoor 200 and 100-meter backstroke titles.

Littlefield Tames Kansas City A's

HOUSTON, Texas, April 5 — The Kansas City Athletics got only two hits off Dick Littlefield tonight as they dropped an exhibition game to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-1.

Littlefield reeled 12 straight batters before Suitcase Simpson lined a home run to lead off the fifth inning. Simpson also got the only other hit—a scratch single-off Littlefield who struck out eight.

Frank Thomas, with a double and single and two bases on balls was the Pirates' hitting star.

Pitching Is Biggest 'If' In 1956 Cincinnati Makeup

CAMP GORDON, Ga., April 5 — Booming power, a slick second base-shortstop combination and ordinary pitching is the Cincinnati story again in 1956. The club could finish anywhere from second to sixth, depending on the pitching.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts honestly thinks his club is a first division club. He can "visualize" catching Milwaukee. Birdie's radar vision does not include a view of Cincinnati nipping Brooklyn.

"We're a solid ball club," said Tebbetts. "If a couple of pitchers step out, away we go. We finished fifth the last two years but I give us a good chance of catching Philadelphia and also New York, if their young pitching doesn't produce. I can visualize catching Milwaukee but I can also visualize St. Louis or maybe Chicago catching us if we don't watch out."

Settle for 4th

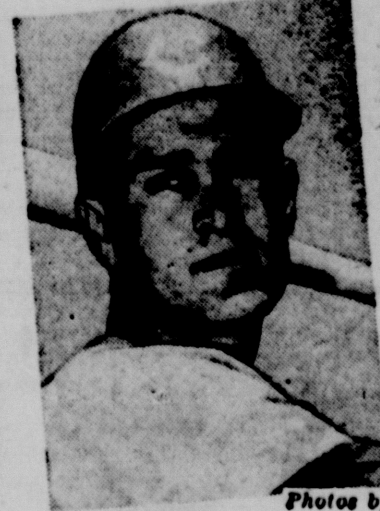

If you have difficulty following Birdie's logic, forget it. He is optimistic. He'll settle for fourth.

Ted Kluszewski gave Cincy fans quite a scare during spring training. "Big Klu," the slugger with the bulging muscles, sat out most of the exhibitions with back trouble. After the ailment was diagnosed as a pulled muscle, Kluszewski began to work out the soreness. "He'll be primed for opening day,"

JACK MULLINS, president of the Stroudsburg Little League, announced last night that the scheduled registration meeting of the local Little League players has been postponed until next week.

The registrations were to take place today but due to a mixup by Little League Inc. in Williamsport the official "sign up" cards failed to arrive in time for the regular "inking" date.

Mullins said that a new date of Friday, April 13, has been tentatively set for the registrations.

Detroit Back In Contention In Cup Series

DETROIT, April 5 — The Detroit Red Wings barged back into the thick of the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs tonight with a hard-fought 3-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens. The triumph was Detroit's first against two losses in the best-of-seven series.

A veteran-rookie combination opened the third period drive that broke a 1-1 deadlock and put the Red Wings back into the scramble, after disappointing losses on the Montreal ice.

Steal By Rookie

Rookie Al Arbour whistled the puck away from a Canadian opponent in the Detroit end and shoved it ahead to Marty Pavelich. Pavelich then passed from right wing to Ted Lindsay directly in front of the Montreal goal and the veteran Lindsay blasted it through goalie Jacques Plante for the tie-breaking goal.

Detroit's Len (Red) Kelly got the opening goal at 14:27 on a timely pass from Gordie Howe.

Even Score

Jean Beliveau beat one Wing defenseman and goalie Glenn Hall after taking a pass from Winger Claude Provost to even the score at 19:20.

Howe got the clinching third Detroit goal with apparent ease at 18:12 of the final period, after taking a two-way pass from Lindsay and center Alex DelVecchio.

Johnny Kilpatrick of the Cincinnati Redlegs beat Brooklyn four times in five decisions in 1955.

Courses On Marriage To Be Conducted

COURSES of instruction for engaged couples and those about to be married within one year will be made available to residents of the Scranton Diocese beginning April 11.

The announcement was made yesterday by the Most Rev. Jerome D. Hannan, D.D., Bishop of Scranton and the Rev. Kenneth Dolan, diocesan director of Family Life Bureau.

Designated as Pre-Cana of Marriage preparation courses, the lectures will be conducted simultaneously at 12 convenient centers throughout the Scranton Diocese, of which St. Matthew's at East Stroudsburg is one. They will be held on four consecutive Wednesdays, April 11, 18, 25 and May 2, from 8 to 9 p.m. A question and answer period will follow.

Talks

Three of the talks will be given by a priest and a fourth by a physician, who will speak on the physical and medical aspects of marriage. The priest conductors have completed a special course of studies on the conclusions and techniques of the outstanding experts in the marriage field in this country.

The basis of the instructions will be the National Catholic Welfare Conference's marriage preparation course entitled, "Toward Happiness and Holiness in Marriage," to which many of the nation's outstanding scholars have contributed. Since the course is directed in a very personal way to those about to receive the Sacrament of Matrimony or those who have just begun marriage and feel they need further understanding of its nature, only engaged couples and those who are planning on being married within a year or who have been married about a year will be admitted. Furthermore, none will be admitted without his intended partner.

St. Matthew's School Auditorium will be the center for Pike and Monroe counties and the opening lecture will begin April 11 at 8 p.m. This course is open to all residents of the Stroudsburgs, to all faiths and those especially who may be contemplating marriage with a catholic partner. The Rev. John A. Essel will be the priest lecturer.

An atmosphere of informality will prevail and a certificate of completion will be awarded those attending the full course.

Stock Market Dips As Action Spreads

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—The stock market went down today as late selling spread throughout the entire list.

Today's action was almost exactly the reverse of yesterday's performance. Today the market was higher most of the day and then turned down in the final hour. Yesterday it was mixed to lower most of the day and staged enough improvement in the final hour to close higher.

Market movements were seldom pronounced, although many individual stocks made wide moves. Losses to around 4 points were shown in key areas while there were many good gains of 1 to better than 3 points.

The market's current indecision is a reflection of Wall Street's cautiousness born of the long climb that started in mid-February. In the past, such steep advances have topped out with a reaction that has retraced one-third to two-thirds of the previous gain. As a result there has been a lot of selective trading.

Oils High

Oils were higher most of the day and encouraged the advance, as they did yesterday. However, they turned lower with the others when selling spread. Just about all major divisions closed lower. Mail order issues and building materials were exceptions.

The Bank of Canada raised its discount rate to 3 per cent from 2½ per cent in what was regarded as another move against inflation. The rate is that charged for loans to commercial banks. As a result of the action, Wall Street kept a close eye on American banking authorities. After the close, directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank adjourned their usual Thursday meeting but made no announcement concerning the discount rate here, presently at 2½ per cent.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 80 cents at $190.40. It gained exactly that amount yesterday. The industrial component of the average lost $1.70, and rails and utilities each backed down 30 cents.

There were 1,200 individual issues traded of which 359 advanced and 594 declined with 99 new highs and 42 new lows for the year scored.

Volume came to 2,950,000 shares as compared with 2,760,000 shares traded yesterday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed with volume at 1,250,000 shares as compared with 1,210,000 shares yesterday.

Polk High Using New Shop Building

KRESGEVILLE — Polk High School shop and ag students have a brand new shop building these days. Built at a cost of only $8,500 the concrete block structure houses equipment of all kinds for use in industrial arts and vocational ag training.

The school has 33 vocational agriculture students and 41 in its industrial art classes. The new shop building measures 30 by 72 feet and contains a classroom, a boiler room and the shop.

Teacher

Under direction of vocational ag teacher Clifford Stroud students have the use of modern equipment which includes electric and acetylene welders, drill press, wood lathe, metal lathe, a blacksmith forge, several grinders, power saws, joiners and sanders.

The structure was erected on order of the Polk Township Board of Education. Much of the equipment now used in it came from the old shop at the school.

Each Tuesday night the school holds a class for young farmers. Stroud teaches the class. There are now 15 young men enrolled in it.

The shop building also has its own hothouses adjoining. Here students raise tomato plants for sale to residents of the area.

MALAYAN AIRLIFT

THE EIGHT-YEAR-WAR against the Communists in the British colony of Malaya is reaching the stage where the enemy is being driven deep into steaming jungles. The big problem now is to keep the Red forces from coming out and ravaging the peaceful countryside. The Britons and Malaysians are waging battles from inaccessible jungle forts and, beyond them, advance areas, which have to be supplied and maintained from the air. Helicopters maintain a lifeline of men and materials which are landed or dropped by parachutes. Aborigines of forts chase the Communist forces with shotguns and blowguns. Jungle airlift is a big weapon.

British inspection team leaves planes and crosses over into one of the jungle forts.

Small force of Britons and Malaysians penetrates the jungle growth on routine patrol.

While two British officers plan foray, aborigines of fort stand by with their weapons.

Price Member Of Pi Sigma Upsilon

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.—John C. Price, of 1151 Appenzeller Ave., Stroudsburg, majoring in Business Administration at Pennsylvania State University, has been quite active in the founding of Pi Sigma Upsilon, a new social fraternity at the University.

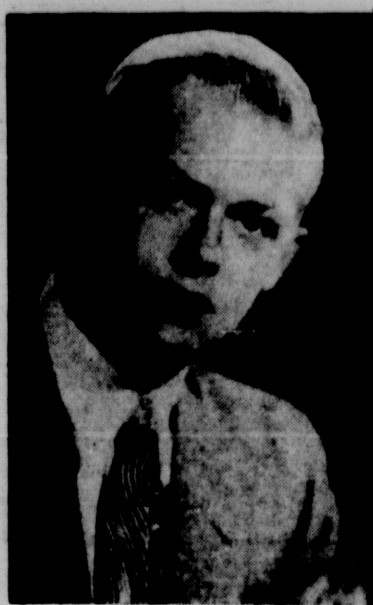

This fraternity differs from the other 53 by having hazing completely eliminated from the pledging program. This is to say that a pledge obeys only the pledge master and must concern himself only with general cleaning duties and learning the important facts of the house and the University.

Charter Member

Jack is proud to be a charter member and brother of Pi Sigma Upsilon.

His other activities with offices held are as follows: Intramural: Swimming, Football, Wrestling; Delta Sigma Pi (Treasurer) and Honorary Dean's List.

In December of 1954, a group of 16 men in Pershing Rifles at the Pennsylvania State University got together through a bond of common interests and formulated an idea of establishing a Pershing Rifle fraternity. This idea was thought about for some months, and in the first week of May 1955, a meeting was held in the Armory at which time the idea crystallized enough for the men to elect officers and begin a formal organization structure. The men elected at that time: William J. Connell, president; Burt Altmanus, vice president; Paul H. Reitter, secretary; W. F. O. Rosenmiller II, treasurer. At this first meeting the group decided not to be an exclusively Pershing Rifles organization but instead to become a regular social fraternity. Also at that meeting the decision to rent a house was agreed upon and the vice president, Burt Altmanus, contacted Mr. and Mrs. Criswell, owners of the house at 136 McAllister Street. The house was sought after by several established fraternities for use as an annex but the Criswells elected in favor of this group.

U.S. Interests Not Vital As Britain's In Middle East

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst
One reason the United States is being accused of not taking a firm stand in the Middle East is that her interests in the area are neither as direct nor as vital as those of Britain.

For those interests, the British have had to fight more than once, and will fight again if necessary. The United States has never fought in the area and isn't quite sure under just what circumstances she might.

President Eisenhower, when he said he wished someone would tell him how American policy could be firmer, might have added "under the circumstances."

The policy of opposition to war in the Middle East is firm enough. Policy about what to do if the main policy fails has not been made.

And that's why Britain is nervous. She would like to have as firm a commitment from the United States on the defense of Western oil interests in the Middle East as Chiang Kai-shek has about the defense of Formosa. The President really doesn't need anybody to tell him that.

Dependent
It is doubtful however, that Britain really expects any such commitment. Britain and Western Europe are increasingly dependent on Middle Eastern oil for industry, which is outstripping the coal supply at a time when hydroelectric power is only making a good start, and before atomic power is much more than a promise.

To Britain, then, continued relations with and access to Iraq are extremely important, and in Kuwait they are vital.

The United States is interested in the same way, but not so vitally, in Iran and Saudi Arabia. Insofar as Britain's interest is more vital, to that extent her joint interest with the United States in the cold war aspect of Middle Eastern troubles is enhanced.

Insofar as the direct question of Arab-Israeli relations is concerned, American policy could be firm by a joint declaration with Britain and probably France that these small nations will not be permitted to conduct a war which would threaten a World War.

Just as she did before World War II, the United States is pressing all the nations involved to consider the dangers and find some other means of settling their disputes.
